

As part of their summer camping theme, 'Love to Serve', campers at Mt. Cross will be assembling kits of school supplies to benefit kids around the world ... through a project of Lutheran World Relief.

The challenge? Bags, to contain the kits.

And so this note from Mariel Spengler, director of Day Camp Ministries at Mt. Cross camp in Felton CA ... seeking folks who could sew some bags. Could this be an intergenerational sewing project for your church??

Herewith ... the PLEA:

Dear friends of kids, and friends of camping:

Can you help us help others? In keeping with our 2009 camp theme, 'Love to Serve', the Day Camps of Mt. Cross will be collecting items and assembling school kits for the Lutheran World Relief school kit project. These school kits go to children all over the world to allow them to continue their education after their lives have been disrupted by war.

Do you know of anyone who might like to help us by sewing bags for this project? We have access to 'reclaimed' fabric which could be used; it has been rescued from upholstery shops before going to landfills. For more information on the project, and sewing instructions, visit <http://www.lwr.org/beinvolved/schoolkit.asp>

If you, or someone you know, can help our Day Campers help others, please contact Mariel Spengler, Director of Day Camp Ministries at 650-814-8395 or daycamp@mtcross.org

Thank you!
